Group Planning Exercise in SSB Interviews: Mastering Team Strategy & Leadership

A comprehensive guide to excelling in one of the most critical assessments of leadership potential and strategic thinking in the Services Selection Board process.

CORE GTO TASK

What is the Group Planning Exercise (GPE)?

The Group Planning Exercise is a cornerstone assessment in the SSB's Group Testing Officer (GTO) battery, specifically within the Basic Series that includes Group Discussion, GPE, Progressive Group Task, and Group Obstacle Race.

This critical task evaluates how candidates work under pressure to transform individual strategic thinking into cohesive team solutions. It's where your ability to lead, collaborate, and think strategically is put to the ultimate test.

Teamwork

Collaborative problem-solving

Time Pressure

Quick decision-making

Strategy

Effective planning skills

Made with GAMMA

The GPE Structure: Two Crucial Phases

Individual Planning Phase

5 minutes: Read and analyze the scenario carefully

10 minutes: Write your comprehensive individual solution

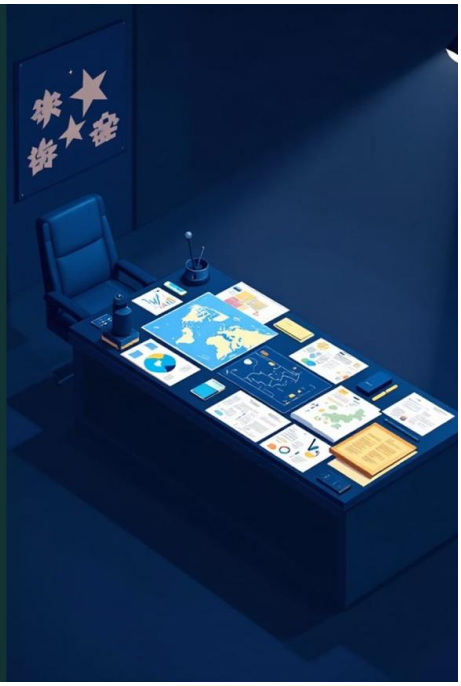
This is your chance to demonstrate independent strategic thinking and problem-solving abilities.

Group Planning Phase

15-20 minutes: Present, discuss, and negotiate solutions

Collaborate to reach consensus on the best collective plan

The real challenge: getting your ideas accepted while respecting others' contributions and working toward the optimal team solution.



ASSESSMENT FRAMEWORK

Evaluation of GPE Solution

Your solution is assessed using the comprehensive GAPRTS framework, which evaluates multiple dimensions of your planning and analytical capabilities:

Grasp
Understanding the scenario completely and identifying key challenges
Tests: Reasoning ability

Aim
Clearly defining the primary objective and desired outcome
Tests: Clarity of thought

Priority
Ranking problems and tasks in logical order of importance
Tests: Organizing ability

Resources
Identifying and optimally allocating available assets
Tests: Practical intelligence

Time & Distance
Realistic calculation of movement and task duration
Tests: Practical awareness

Solution
Feasible, complete plan addressing all challenges
Tests: Effective intelligence

Writing Format: Your Blueprint for Success

01
Aim
State the primary objective clearly and concisely

02
Priorities / Problems
List challenges in order of urgency and importance

03
Resources
Identify both visible and hidden assets available

04
Grouping
Divide team into subgroups with specific roles

05
Solution
Detailed action plan with time and distance calculations

06
Common Place
Designated meeting point after task completion

Grouping Example

- Group 1: 2 Members - Emergency response team
- Group 2: 4 Members - Main operational force
- Group 3: 3 Members - Support and coordination

Solution Example

P1 (Priority 1): Secure immediate safety and provide first aid to injured personnel

P2 (Priority 2): Contact authorities and establish communication channels

P3 (Priority 3): Execute preventive measures and coordinate resources

Effective Group Discussion Tips

Active Listening
Pay genuine attention to others' ideas and perspectives. Show respect through body language and verbal acknowledgment.

Confident Presentation
Present your solution with clarity and conviction, but remain open to feedback and alternative approaches.

Solution-Focused
Prioritize finding the best collective answer over winning individual arguments. The team's success is your success.

Structured Progress
Close each discussion point before advancing. Move systematically from problems to priorities to solutions.

Positive Engagement
Maintain encouraging body language, consistent eye contact, and supportive verbal cues throughout the discussion.

Made with GAMMA

Things to Keep in Mind

Strategic Planning Buffer

Always mention allocating approximately 10 minutes for initial strategizing before executing the plan. This shows foresight and practical planning ability.

Path Coverage Documentation

Explicitly state how you covered the footpath (shown as "----------" in the map). Assessors specifically look for this attention to detail in your narration.

Clean Presentation

Avoid making corrections or additions while narrating your group plan solution. Present a polished, well-thought-out plan that demonstrates preparation.

Lead from the Front

When dangerous situations arise in the scenario, volunteer to go yourself. This demonstrates courage, leadership, and willingness to take responsibility.

Common Pitfalls to Avoid

Incomplete Resource Analysis

Failing to identify or utilize hidden resources and overlooking realistic time constraints can severely weaken your solution's credibility.

Premature Team Division

Jumping directly to subgroup formation before thorough problem analysis and prioritization shows poor strategic thinking.

Communication Imbalance

Dominating the discussion without actively listening to teammates or being too passive demonstrates poor teamwork skills.

Vague Individual Plans

Writing incomplete, unclear, or ambiguous individual solutions makes it difficult to contribute meaningfully during group discussion.

Loss of Group Focus

Losing sight of team cohesion and failing to build consensus undermines the entire purpose of the group planning exercise.

Made with GAMMA

Your Path to Success in GPE

Practice Scenario Analysis

Regularly practice analyzing diverse scenarios and developing quick, logical prioritization skills through mock exercises and past SSB examples.

Master Concise Writing

Develop the ability to write clear, comprehensive individual plans within time constraints. Practice makes perfect in expressing complex ideas simply.

Enhance Communication Skills

Hone your persuasion, active listening, and negotiation abilities. Learn to present ideas confidently while remaining collaborative and receptive.

Embrace Team Success

Remember that collective achievement always outweighs individual glory. Your success is measured by how well you contribute to the team's solution.

Showcase Leadership Potential

Master the GPE to demonstrate your officer-like qualities and secure your place in the Services Selection Board. Your preparation today shapes your military career tomorrow.

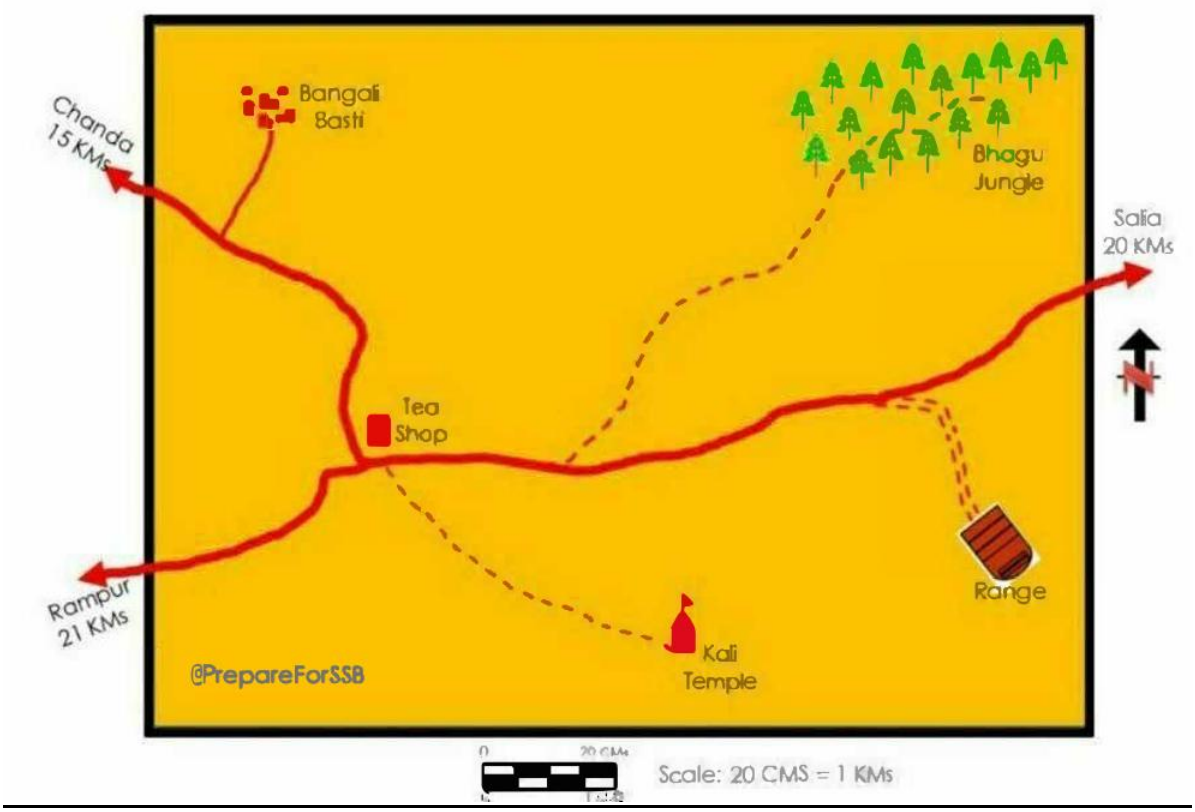
Group Planning Exercise 01



Narrative : -

You are a group of NCC students who had come from Rampur for Firing to the ranges by a van. You have been told to return for the Campfire, which is scheduled for 7PM. As you moved out from the ranges your vehicles stalled near the Road Junction as the filter was blocked. Driver informed that it would take half an hour to repair the van. Meanwhile You decided to have a cup of tea at the teashop. Just then the priest of the Kali Temple came and informed that an armed man in uniform was hiding in the temple. The priest also informed that he was the same individual who had deserted from the Chanda Police Station with a weapon 3 days back. As you were planning on your course of action, a scooterist came and halted near the tea shop as his tyre got punctured. You overheard him saying that he had seen a speeding car with two occupants skid off the road and overturn, halfway from Bangali Bosti, and since he was in a hurry to reach the Solio Railway Station to receive his son, he could not stop and help the injured persons. He requested for help as he wanted to reach the Railway Station at the station before the train arrive. In the meanwhile, you saw a man come on a bicycle to the Teashop from the direction of Bhagui Jungle. He told the shop owner that he saw the local goon Appan and two of his associates forcibly dragging a young girl, daughter of the doctor from Bengali basti, into the jungle. He requested to use the telephone at the shop; however he was informed that all the telephone lines are dead since the last two days. The time now is 4 PM. Narrative : -

You are a group of students (considering you are ten students) from Shyampur. You are going from Shyampur to Mand in a van to play the inter-college basketball final match starting at 11 AM. You started early as one of your friends wanted to deliver important house papers to his uncle in Udo. The documents (house papers) are required by the afternoon as today is the last day for registering the house. Suddenly your van tyre bursts near Kali temple, which is on the banks of river Malti. You get down from the van and walk over the river bridge. The bridge is on higher ground and gives a good view of the area. From your binoculars, you see a boat drifting in the river. You are unable to make out if there is anyone on the boat. You then witness a small aircraft crash landing in fields very close to Kandipur village. Luckily the aircraft doesn't catch fire, but you can make out that two people, most probably pilots, stagger out of the aircraft and fall to the ground. As you are deciding what to do, the Pujari of Kali temple comes running and tells you that the silver idol of Lord Krishna has been stolen. The driver of your van tells you that he has seen two men run out of Temple with something covered in red cloth resembling an idol. The driver adds that those thieves have taken the un-metalled road leading to Mahi. The Pujari adds that thieves in the area generally hide in the cave near Mahi. Telephones and mobile phones are not working in the area. The time now is 8 AM. What will you do in this situation?

Narrative : -

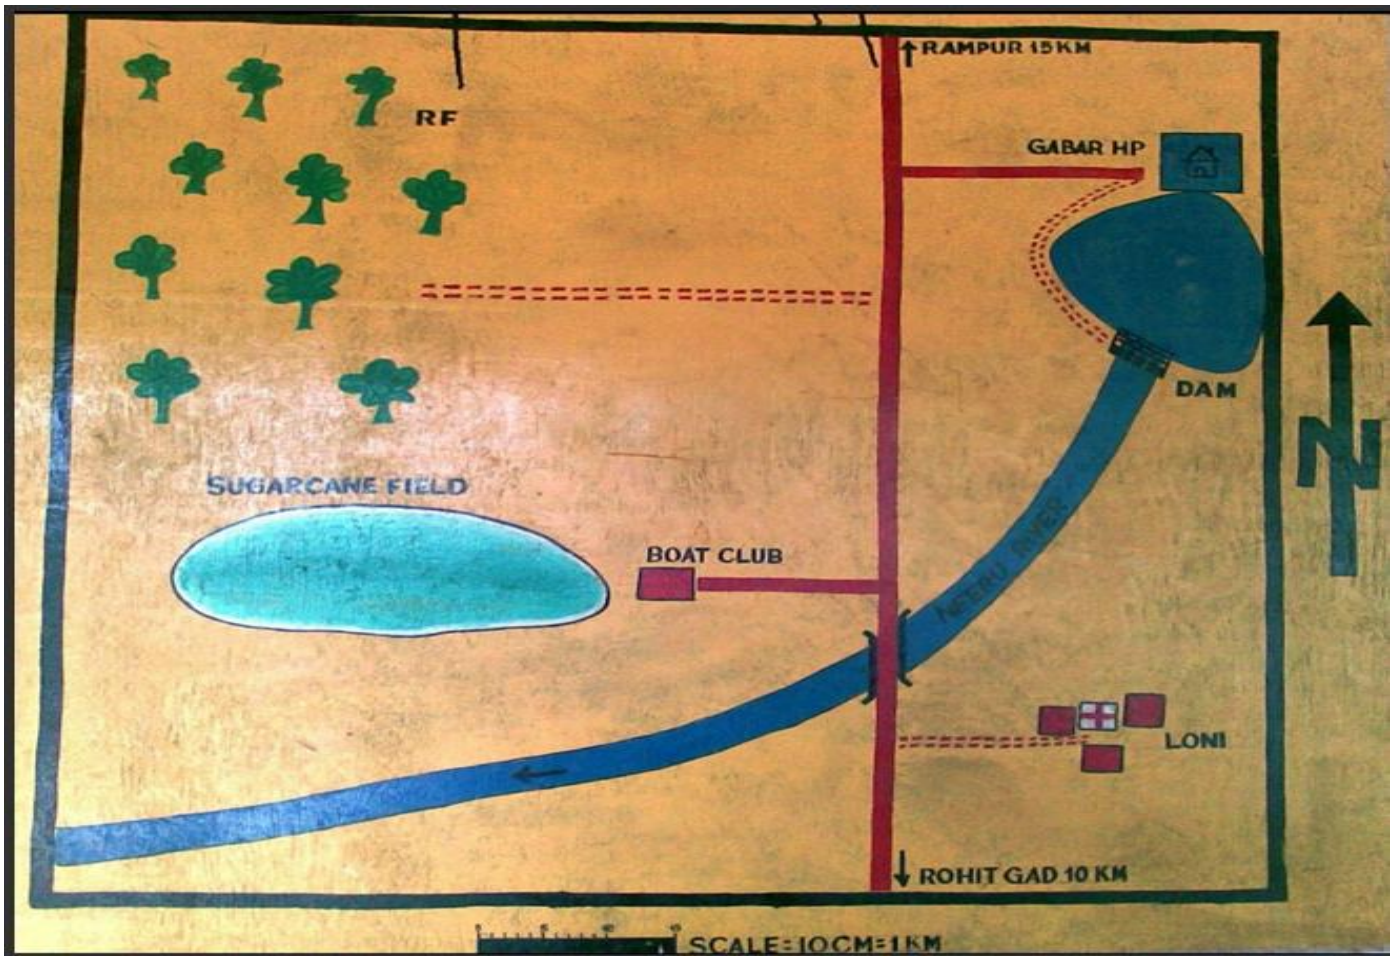
You are a group of students coming from Rampur in a mini van going to Bijapur for a meeting at 10:00 a.m. At a junction, you saw a man on a motorcycle coming from Mali. He stopped the van and said: "A kid of height 4 feet is stuck in a marshy well in Ram village and is sinking six inches per 30 minutes. The villagers of Ram village have gone to Mali for a function." While listening to the man, the helper at the tea stall by mistake spilled a utensil filled with tea on his stomach and got major burns. As the group was getting ready to save the boy and the helper, an old lady came to them and said to pass this parcel to her kid at Kali Reserve Forest. She also told that a few goons are planning to kill the sarpanch at Raisha village by flipping the boat which the sarpanch would be taking from the ferry point at 8:00 a.m. The time now is 7:30 a.m. and due to weather conditions, no telephone is available. What will you do?

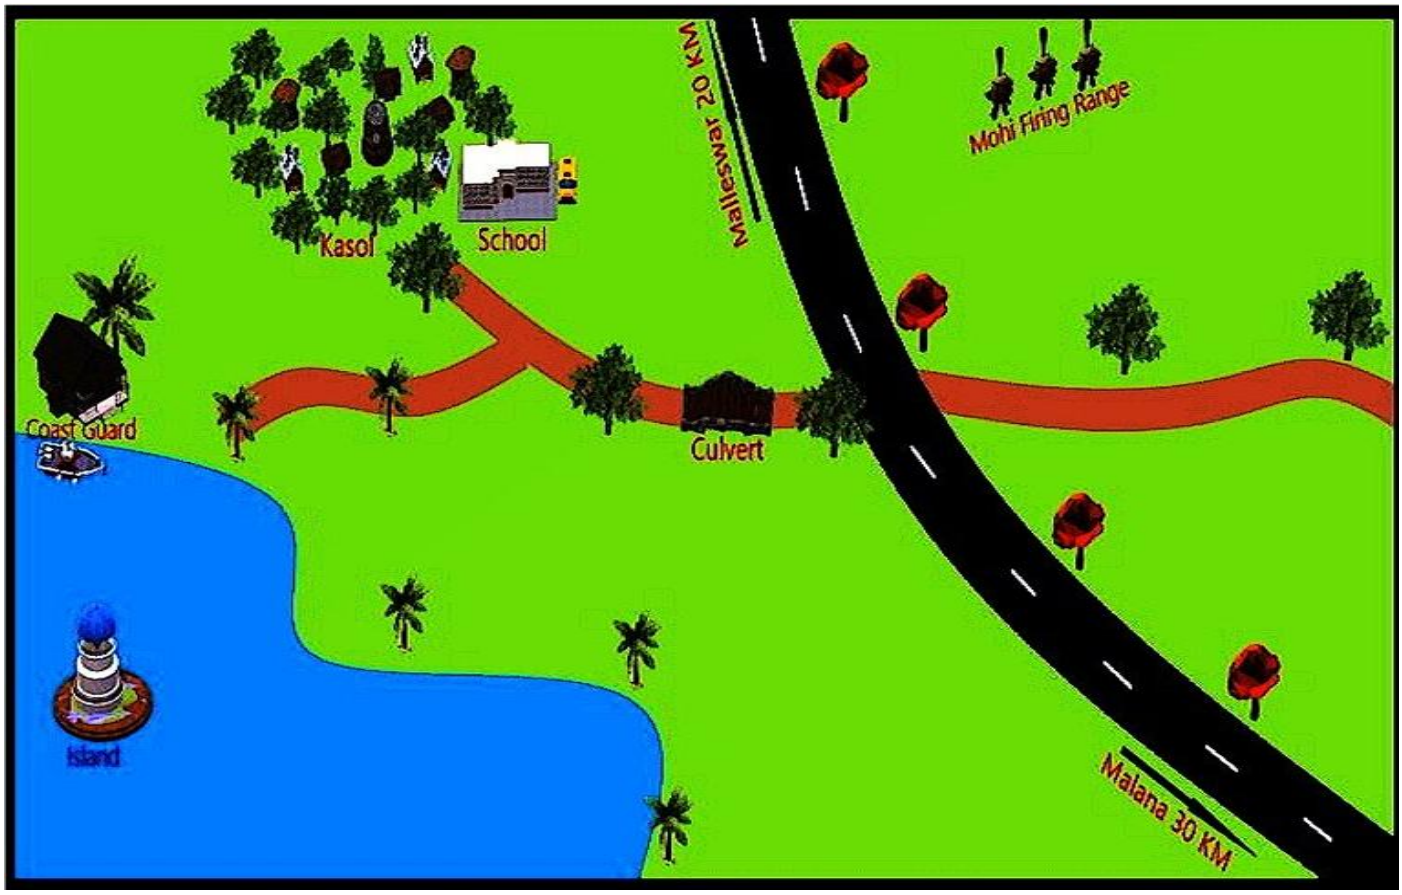
Group Planning Exercise 32



Narrative : -

You are a group of students from Rohitgad College who have come for a picnic on the banks of river Neeru. Your bus dropped you near the bridge and would be back to collect you at 5:30 pm. While you were having lunch at the boat club, you noticed a helicopter crash land in the nearby sugarcane fields. When you reached the accident site you saw that the pilot was badly injured and bleeding profusely. The passenger with him, though in a state of shock, told you that he was an engineer at the Gabar Hyde Project. He said that he was urgently required there to release the excess water by 4:30 pm as the electronic controls of the gates had been damaged. If not released in time, the dam would be breached and the entire area would be flooded. While you were thinking what to do, a woodcutter came running from the forest and on seeing you told you that he had seen some suspicious looking people cutting and loading sandalwood trees onto a truck. Just then the boat club manager came running towards you shouting and waving his arms towards the river where one unmanned boat was drifting downstream. Time now is 1:30 pm. As energetic young students what will you do?

Group Planning Exercise 33



Narrative : -

You are a group of Army Personnels going for shooting practice from your camp at Malleswar to Mohi firing range in a 3 Ton. When you reached road junction, a few villagers with an injured person in a bullock cart stopped you and asked for help. The man who had been attacked by a Shark told you the incident. "I had been to the lighthouse Island for fishing and I overheard two smugglers discussing that a consignment of drugs was to reach the Island in a helicopter at 1100 hrs today. To divert the attention of the Coastal guard, they were planning to explode a bomb at the village school at 1130 hrs, where the coastal guard commander would be inaugurating the school's annual function. When they found out that I was listening, they tried to attack me, and I jumped into the sea and swam towards the shore. Unfortunately, a shark attacked me". At that time the NCO in charge tells you that he had forgotten to bring the targets for firing. The villagers further informed you that the culvert had collapsed after they had passed through. Now time is 0930 hrs. As a group of brave young men, what will you do?
